AMENDMENT NEEDED.

Two fatalities at Manhattan lately, in which the victims forfeited their lives by falling down wells and disused shafts, emphasizes the need of the next legislature framing a law that will compel mine owners and others to properly enclose such openings and thus protect life and limb. There is not a mining camp in the county in which there are not scores of such unprotected openings.

Nevada has a law on the subject, but like a good many other laws, it is crudely drawn and altogether ineffective in operation. A penalty of $100 fine is provided in case of parties failing to enclose shafts, wells, etc. And it is provided that prosecution in such cases—it sounds like a joke when one reads it—shall begin by notification of the board of county commissioners; thereupon the board shall notify the district attorney; then the district attorney shall notify the individual complained of—it goes round the circle like a merry-go-round. If the guilty man then fails to toe the mark he shall be prosecuted in any court of justice.

The trouble with this law is that the prosecution ends just where it should begin. Instead of having all this red tape to get the case in court—and the more red tape usually the less justice—a complaint should be filed in the township where the nuisance exists and the prosecution enforced there. This is the method for other cases of misdemeanor, and the same rule should be followed here. Whenever any citizen endeavors to prosecute several hundred cases of this sort—and there are just about this many in the Manhattan mining district—at long distance (as would be the case through bringing the action first before the commissioners) he will tire of the job before it goes very far.

The penalty provided in case the commissioners or the district attorney fail to act is another joke. How many private citizens are willing to shoulder the responsibility, bear the expense and sustain the worry of an action to remove these officials from office? If it is replied that the grand jury will attend to this, it may be urged that while the community is waiting for the grand jury to get busy some half dozen more people have fallen down wells.

The sensible amendment of the law would be to provide the same system and procedure of prosecution as is provided for all other misdemeanors in a justice court, requiring the local constable to first serve notice for the abatement of the nuisance complained of. Then, if the property owner involved does not act, prosecute him as if he were guilty of maintaining any other sort of nuisance. The present law has altogether too much long-range business about it to be effective.

TONOPAH AS A WINTER RESORT.

"The land of sunshine and sagebrush" would be an appropriate title for southern Nevada at the present time. Poets have raved about the beauties of Florida and California during the winter months, but they have evidently overlooked a bet or they would come to this section of the world and appreciate real summer weather in the winter time. With the proper advertising Tonopah would be one of the most famous winter resorts in the world. Each day is filled with 100 per cent sunshine, while the nights are delightful. It is a mild season and every indication goes to say that the present weather conditions will continue to exist until after Christmas.

Some enterprising citizen should write a book on the wonderful weather of the southern desert and then scatter the copies broadcast with the idea of making this city the winter home of thousands who usually flock to the old established resorts. We can furnish plenty of hunting for those who desire the sport, for our supply of jackrabbits is unlimited. Others wishing a milder diversion could prospect the surrounding country and maybe a few important finds might take place.

A GOOD STORY

OF H. M. YERINGTON

H. M. Yerington, who recently died in Carson, was a lifelong friend and business associate of the late D. O. Mills. For years they were jointly interested in the Virginia & Truckee railroad, a piece of road that for its cost of construction and mileage earned more money at one time than any other road in the United States. This was during the palmy days of the Comstock. Mills used to be fond of telling a story about an experience he and Yerington had on the occasion of the visit they took to England some years ago. A London director of the London and North-western road took them on a trip over the line with a locomotive and private car. When the wheels began to go round clickety-click at the rate of 60 miles an hour, the Englishman asked Yerington how he liked traveling at that rate. The prominent Nevada seemed to study, but finally remarked that he did not object to traveling fast. Soon the special train had attained a speed of 70 miles an hour, the car rocking considerably all the while and the Britisher explaining to Mills and Yerington that owing to little or no grades or curves there was no danger in going at such a fast clip.

"I'm not worried about any danger of jumping the track," quickly replied Yerington. "I was just thinking that you can't keep up this speed much longer without running off your blamed little island."—Gazette.

FINDING MORE WATER AT CAMP JUNGLEVILLE

The little bunch of patriots interested in the land northwest of Vegas, in the locality known as "Jungleville," are able to "come back." At any rate they are hot on the trail of artesian water, after several months' idleness.

Driller Gregory sunk the well there to the depth of 300 feet last spring and has now resumed work and has the drilling rig now busily pounding away sinking to such depth as may be necessary to reach the precious fluid. The land in that location is choice and the opening of that portion of the artesian water belt will result in the addition of a great acreage to the tillable lands of the Vegas valley. Those most largely interested in the work are A. N. Pauff, P. L. Smith, Charles Keyes, Bob Ferguson and Mr. Gregory.—Los Vegas Age.

YERINGTON WILL IS FILED FOR PROBATE

WILL OF BUILDER OF RAILROADS SHOWS ESTATE OF LARGE PROPORTIONS

CARSON CITY, Dec. 16.—The will of the late H. M. Yerington was probated yesterday in the district court. It was executed on the 1th day of June, 1908, and was witnessed by F. E. Murphy and Arthur LaTerna.

The document was in the handwriting of Yerington, while the signature bears the same striking characteristic which is so well known to those who have witnessed it during his life.

From the estimates made by witnesses who were on the stand, the will disposes of property in the sum of $200,000. The disposition of the valuable estate is paragraphed and no item is overlooked. There is no mistaking the intents of justice on the part of the deceased.

To his daughter, Jennie Avery Yerington, is willed his two life insurance policies, one for $7,500 and the other for $5,000.

The 154 shares of the Carson Tahoe Lumber and Flume company are divided share and share alike between his wife, E. B. Yerington, James A. Miss Avery and Herbert, his children. The same disposition is made of 5,000 shares of the Eldorado Wood and Flume company stock. The same beneficiaries are named to share and share alike in the 166 2-3 shares of the Virginia and Truckee railroad, the same disposition being made of other stocks and bonds of value.

The stock of the Washoe County bank is treated likewise and in the division of the Carson Water company holdings the following division was made: Mrs. Clara V. Yerington, E. B. James A., and Herbert Yerington, 124 shares each.

The instrument sets forth that the Carson Water company, the V. & T. railroad holdings and some of the bonds are of special value, and recommended that they be held intact within the family.

To his son, Hume Yerington, is left the sum of $2,500, to be paid out of the first available cash on hand. The will states that owing to monies advanced to his son, Hume, that the above sum was considered a just allowance.

To Mrs. Annie Ladd Yerington is left the sum of $1,000, while her son, Marvin, is to be paid the sum of $500. Mrs. Jennie Rice was also remembered in the will, but the lady died soon after the death of Yerington.

St. Peter's church in this city benefits in the sum of $500, with E. D. Vanderlieth named as executor, he being the senior warden of the church.

SILICATE OF SODIUM IN INEXHAUSTIBLE QUANTITY

Nine or ten miles west of Reno is a hill that is composed almost exclusively of silicate of sodium. The rock is commonly called kaolin, but it does not exactly respond to the tests.

For a number of years efforts have been made to find a use for this material, which exists in inexhaustible quantities. The rock contains no grit and could be converted into a metal polish. With the addition of a binder it would form magnificent bricks. Its saponaceous qualities also recommend it for the making of soap. In fact, the Red M. Soap company once owned the hill, but they did not make a success of their venture, for one reason or another, and it has fallen into new hands.

Local people now own the hill and various experiments are being made, some of them with excellent chances of success. Owing to the fact that there is such a tremendous proposition, any successful enterprise must be upon a large scale and would be the means of employing a large number of workmen. There are certain propositions being worked out that are near to fruition, but information relative to them cannot be given out at present.

TIME FOR CHEESE FACTORY

Reno is to have a cracker factory and soon every table will have at soup time the Reno product. This will mean the starting up of one or more cheese factories in the state.

STATE BANK CASE IS CONTINUED TO JANUARY

The trial of the directors of the State Bank and Trust company, which has been taking up the attention of the district court for the best part of the month, has gone over until the ninth of January, or until next year.

During the past two weeks Receiver Wildes has been on the stand on direct examination. From the progress made it is evident that the case is to occupy a great deal of additional time. The testimony of Mr. Wildes will be taken up on cross examination when the direct is finished, which will follow directly.

Other witnesses are to follow.

During the present adjournment Judge Langan expects to take his wife to California for medical treatment. The lady has been a severe sufferer from rheumatism and it is hoped that the change will be beneficial.—Carson Appeal.

TO ALL SURVIVORS OF INDIAN WARS

We desire to obtain the addresses of all those who served on the frontier against hostile Indians in the United States and volunteer service from the close of the civil war until 1883, in order that their names may be placed on the books of the National Indian War Veterans' association, so that they may benefit by the act now pending before congress, as soon as it becomes a law.

The National Indian War Veterans, organized for the purpose of procuring pensions for its members, have sent two of its order, the national commander, Henry Hegwer, and the national secretary, C. R. Hauser, to Washington, D. C., there to inaugurate a vigorous campaign for the purpose of accomplishing this object.

Those brave and noble soldiers who so valiantly defended and protected the western frontier in the early days, making it possible for this generation to develop its unlimited resources and to live in peace and prosperity, are surely entitled to the same recognition that this government so justly accords to survivors of other wars.

HENRY HEGWER,

National Commander, N. I. W. V.

C. R. HAUSER,

National Secretary, N. I. W. V.

MASONIC NOTICE

TONOPAH LODGE NO. 28, F. & A. M., holds its stated meeting this evening at 7:30 in Butler hall. Election of officers and important business. Visiting brothers cordially invited.

By order of the W. M.

H. H. ATKINSON, Sec'y.

E. K. Hansen, a shoemaker employed by the Lovelock Mercantile company, keeps a cow that eats chickens; eats them alive. How the bovine ever got such a gormandizing appetite is unknown, but the truth is that Mr. Hansen has to be careful and keep his cow and his chickens separated. On several occasions he has found this cow with a live chicken in its mouth and calmly chewing off a leg or wing of the shrieking fowl.—Lovelock Tribune.
